Obituaries

JAMES M. MORAN JR.

James M. Moran Jr., who owned Elk Manor Farm in Maryland, died April 9 following a short illness. He was 55.

Moran started in racing in 1980 with his mother, Elizabeth Moran, who owns Brushwood Stable in Pennsylvania. In the early 1990s, he acquired Elk Manor Farm near North East, Md.

Some of the recent stakes winners bred by Elk Manor alone and in partnership included English and Maryland champion Les Arcs; Maryland champion Richetta; multiple stakes winner White Mountain Boy; and stakes winner Irish Osprey, who raced for Moran.

"Jimmy was a kind, gentle, brilliant guy," said Central Kentucky horseman Robert Courtney. "A great father, friend, husband, and a fine horseman; he will be sorely missed by many in the racing world."

The Moran family has been involved with a number of important horses over the years. Elizabeth Moran won the 1985 Belmont Stakes (gr. I) with Creme Fraiche.

She and another of her sons, Michael, are the breeders of 2007 grade I winner Hard Spun. Michael Moran perhaps is best known for racing multiple steeplechase champion McDynamo.

Moran is survived by his wife, Beatrice; daughters Katie and Meghan; and a son, Matthew. His children will continue to operate Elk Manor.

CLIFF GUILLIAMS

Cliff Guilliams, a longtime chart caller, handicapper, and media personality on the Kentucky racing circuit, died April 12 in Louisville. He was 52.

A native of Evansville, Ind., Guilliams became a racing fan during his high school days, when he and his friends made frequent visits to nearby Ellis Park. He later owned racehorses.

Guilliams compiled charts for Daily Racing Form and Equibase Company for more than 20 years. He became an Equibase chart caller in June 1998 when the Form and Equibase merged their chart-calling teams. Guilliams also was a writer for the Evansville Courier & Press and the handicapper for the Louisville Courier-Journal for races at Churchill Downs and Keeneland.

Guilliams was one of several Equibase employees to produce the Kentucky Derby (gr. I) chart, taking the lead role in composing the race comments and footnotes for each participant. He charted 25 Kentucky Derbys.

A lifelong resident of Evansville, Guilliams was a big fan of Ellis Park and supported the track any way he could. He served as an unofficial historian and promoter.

Guilliams maintained close friendships with such Hall of Fame trainers as D. Wayne Lukas, Woody Stephens, and Nick Zito. One of Zito's owners, Robert LaPenta, named a Gulch colt after Guilliams. Named The Cliff's Edge, he won the 2004 Toyota Blue Grass Stakes (gr. I) at Keeneland.

Guilliams wrote the book Final Calls to Absent Friends. He is survived by his wife Susan, whom he married March 14.
