Obituary

SIDNEY WATTERS JR.

Hall of Fame trainer Sidney Watters Jr. died Feb. 14 at age 90 in Maryland. Watters, who suffered from Alzheimer's disease, had been hospitalized a few days earlier because of pneumonia.

Watters was inducted into the National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., in 2005. Although he went in as a steeplechase trainer, he had experienced plenty of success with flat runners. His two best were champions Hoist the Flag and Slew o' Gold.

Hoist the Flag was voted champion 2-year-old male of 1970 and was the winter book favorite for the Kentucky Derby. After winning both starts in early 1971, he suffered a leg injury that spring and was retired. He went on to become a successful stallion, siring 20% stakes winners from foals, including the great European champion Alleged.

Slew o' Gold, from the first crop of Seattle Slew, was named champion 3-year-old male of 1983 after winning the Woodward Stakes (gr. I) and Jockey Club Gold Cup (gr. I) over older horses. He also ran second in the Belmont Stakes (gr. I).

Watters trained for 52 years—from 1947 to 1999—and won six National Steeplechase training titles. He started in the sport as an amateur rider on the timber circuit prior to World War II and his victories over jumps included a win in the Carolina Cup. His riding accomplishment also extended to Saratoga, where he won a flat race at 16. At 70, he won a training title at the Spa.

Sidney Watters Jr.

Following his retirement, Watters returned to his family's Dunmore Farm near Monkton, Md., where he continued to enjoy the company of horses.

"He stayed on the farm until the very end," said his nephew, Maryland trainer

Richard Small. "He was very fond of it and would go to the barn several times a day just to look at his special horse. There were times when he looked like he couldn't make it through the day, but he'd check his watch and say it's time to feed them."

Watters' daughter, Nonie, said behind all the wins and trophies was an even bigger accomplishment. "His biggest accomplishment was that he loved doing what he did and that was training horses and being around them," she said. "It was great that after all those years in New York, he was able to come back to the farm. He was a great horseman, which is something you can't say about all trainers."

Watters, who trained 59 stakes winners, learned many of his early lessons from legendary steeplechase horseman James E. Ryan. Watters, in turn, did his part in schooling future horsemen, including veteran conditioners Jimmy Murphy and Leo O'Brien.

Watters also trained grade I winners Love Sign, Musical Lark, and Slewpy in the 1980s, plus earlier steeplechase champions Amber Diver and Shadow Brook. A filly, Love Sign, won the Alabama Stakes (gr. I) and consecutive runnings of the Beldame (gr. I) Stakes. Slewpy, another son of Seattle Slew, was a two-time grade I winner.

A World War II veteran, Watters also is survived by a son, Eric. By David Schmitz
