Rock Fall won the Sept. 26 Vosburgh Stakes, his seventh straight win

ROCK FALL TO STAND AT WINSTAR IN 2016

By Ian Tapp

Like a chip off the old block, Stonestreet Stables' Rock Fall has emulated his sire, WinStar Farm's Speightstown, all year. So what better place than WinStar for him to begin his stud career in 2016?

Rock Fall, out of the Medaglia d'Oro mare Renda, is currently riding a seven-race win streak that includes the grade II True North Stakes—a race Speightstown won in 2004—and the grade I Alfred G. Vanderbilt Handicap—also Speightstown's in 2004. Speightstown added that year's Breeders' Cup Sprint (gr. I) and the champion sprinter title, two items still on Rock Fall's agenda.

"Speightstown is on the verge of exploding as a sire of sires with the high-quality colts he's had, but Rock Fall is the one we've been waiting for to stand alongside his sire," WinStar president Elliott Walden said. "We love this colt, and everyone who's been connected with Speightstown, including Todd Pletcher, has raved about how much Rock Fall reminds them of his sire." BH

2015 Kentucky Oaks winner Lovely Maria returns to the track where she won the Ashland this spring

KENTUCKY OAKS WINNERS MEET IN SPINSTER

By Frank Angst

While winning the Juddmonte Spinster Stakes (gr. I) carries prestige, the connections of the nine fillies and mares entered Oct. 4 at Keeneland are also thinking ahead to the Oct. 30 Longines Breeders' Cup Distaff (gr. I) at the Lexington track.

Sunday's field includes the past two Longines Kentucky Oaks (gr. I) winners: Winchell Thoroughbreds homebred Untapable, who won four grade I races including the Distaff to earn champion 3-year-old filly honors last season; and Brereton Jones' 2015 winner Lovely Maria.

With Keeneland hosting this year's Breeders' Cup, the Spinster, which like the Distaff is run at 1 1/8 miles, is an obvious prep. But it already has a long history as a springboard with a Spinster starter going on to win the Distaff 10 times. The record has been especially strong when Keeneland's eight Polytrack years are not considered; they didn't deliver a single Distaff winner.

Following Keeneland's return to dirt last fall, Spinster winner Don't Tell Sophia finished second to Untapable in the Distaff. BH

UNBRIDLED DADDY INTRIGUES IN BOURBON

By Eric Mitchell

An oversubscribed field for the $250,000 Dixiana Bourbon Stakes (gr. IIIT) Oct. 4 at Keeneland includes four juveniles who have finished in the money in stakes.

The most intriguing stakes horse is Unbridled Daddy, a homebred for John Brunetti's Red Oak Stable. In his last start the Scat Daddy colt finished third in the grade II With Anticipation Stakes going 1 1/16 miles on the Saratoga turf. Unbridled Daddy broke his maiden at Saratoga on the grass in his second start, going the same distance. Trained by Todd Pletcher, the colt will be ridden by Javier Castellano.

The other stakes horses include Uncle Brennie (by Uncle Mo), who took the Sunday Silence Stakes at Louisiana Downs; Hot Ore (by Unusual Heat), second in the Del Mar Juvenile Turf Stakes; and Don't Be So Salty (by Tiz Wonderful), third in the Schenectady Stakes.

Unbridled Daddy broke his maiden Aug. 16 at Saratoga, then ran third in the Sept. 2 With Anticipation

The Bourbon is a Breeders' Cup Challenge "Win and You're In" race for the one-mile Juvenile Turf (gr. IT). BH

INTERNATIONAL STARTERS PREP AT KEENELAND

By Frank Angst

As this year's Breeders' Cup host, Keeneland likely picked up some international horses prepping for the World Championships. Keeneland vice president of racing Rogers Beasley said the Lexington track is thrilled to have eight European-trained horses starting in its Oct. 3 graded stakes.

Those starters include three for Aidan O'Brien: stakes winners Easter and Outstanding, Galileo daughters trying the First Lady (gr. IT) after finishing second and third, respectively, in a group III stakes at Gowran Park; and War Envoy, a group II-placed War Front colt in the Shadwell Turf Mile (gr. IT).

Also in the First Lady, trainer Thomas Dascombe sends out Crowley's Law, third in the Noble Damsel (gr. IIIT) at Belmont Park. In the Turf Mile, Kevin Ryan enters group III winner Kelinni, and Charles Hills saddles two-time group III winner (twice group I-placed) Dutch Connection.

Kentucky Downs paid out $6.6 million in purses during its recently completed meet

KENTUCKY DOWNS WINS PURSES BATTLE

By Ron Mitchell

If purses are the engine that drives Kentucky racing, then Kentucky Downs has the upper hand over Churchill Downs in the battle for September, making a good case that it should get more dates in the future.

With its boutique all-turf meet comprising 48 races over four full cards and part of another, Kentucky Downs paid out nearly $6.6 million in purses, compared with Churchill's $3.6 million for 109 races during an 11-day meet.

Predictably, Churchill's handle of $33.2 million was well above the $16.8 million at the smaller Franklin, Ky., track. But racing's old economic model tying purses to handle does not work anymore, with Kentucky Downs' purses fueled by revenue from historical racing machines.

Despite its hefty purses Kentucky Downs' efforts to add more dates have been rejected by regulators who have sided with Churchill.

Before Turfway Park gave up September dates to Churchill three years ago, it coordinated its races with Kentucky Downs during the month. BH

WINX, PEARLS STAR AT SPRING CARNIVAL

By Tara Madgwick

Sydney's Spring Carnival reaches a crescendo Oct. 3 with a program of nine stakes races at Randwick, three of them group Is. While the group I staying feature, the Metropolitan Handicap (2,400 meters), comprises entirely imported gallopers, the $1 million Epsom Handicap (1,600 meters) and Flight Stakes (1,600 meters) for 3-year-old fillies are packed with locally bred talent.

Quality mare Winx (by Street Cry) is a short-priced favorite for the Epsom while progressive gelding Sadler's Lake (High Chaparral), also from the Chris Waller stable, is seen as her biggest danger.

The Flight Stakes has attracted a field of up-and-comers including many well-bred fillies in good form. Having only started racing in August, the Godolphin runner Pearls (Exceed And Excel) has quickly lived up to her royal pedigree. She is the fourth stakes winner for remarkable producer Accessories (Singspiel), whose previous offspring include multiple group I winners Helmet and Ep-aulette. Pearls may well make a hat trick. BH

RECORD CATALOG AT JS COMPANY SALE

By Naohiro Goda

JS Company's breeding stock sale's largest-ever catalog has been released. Scheduled for Oct. 25 at Shizunai, the one-day sale includes 191 in-foal mares, 40 barren mares, and eight out-of-training fillies.

One of the most attractive broodmare offerings is the 7-year-old Dubawi mare Paperchain, offered in foal to Japanese Horse of the Year Orfevre. Consigned by Idaka Farm, Paperchain is out of a full sister to European champion and sire Grand Lodge. Recently at the JRHA foal sale, 13 weanlings from Orfevre's first crop averaged ¥41 million ($331,266), reflecting the stallion's marketplace popularity.

Terry Yoshida's Shadai Farm offers the sale's largest consignment, 52 lots featuring Mill Luteus, a half sister to Japanese champion Fuji Kiseki in foal to King George

EMPIRE MAKER 'WAS NEVER FOR SALE'

Bloodstock agent Emmanuel de Seroux has brokered two purchases of Empire Maker

Today's MarketWatch interview is with bloodstock agent Emmanuel de Seroux, who brokered the deal for Don Alberto Corp. and Gainesway to purchase Empire Maker from the Japan Bloodstock Breeders' Association. Five years ago de Seroux represented the JBBA in purchasing Empire Maker from Juddmonte Farms.

Blood-Horse Daily: What has been your experience working with the JBBA on the two Empire Maker deals?

De Seroux: It's kind of a full circle. Both times when Empire Maker has been sold, he was not supposed to be buyable. He was never "for sale" by either party, so it makes a very interesting story.

The JBBA is a breeders' association, so they are in the business of helping breeders get access to good stallions, so it's not the same economics. For the American farms we look at (the business) in terms of investment and return on the investment. But the JBBA is more of a service company, in a way.

BHD: What events led up to the latest purchase of Empire Maker?

De Seroux: The JBBA had been approached by various farms to purchase the horse and always said he was not on the market. But the more they received requests and offers, they decided they didn't want to conduct a Dutch auction. They went back to the people that made offers and said, "Put your best offer forward, and then we will decide if the best offer is something we want to consider." They set a deadline of Sept. 5, and at that time they would consider the best offer.

Don Alberto and Gainesway was the group with the best offer, and the JBBA decided that they would accept it.

BHD: What was Don Alberto's strategy for acquiring Empire Maker?

De Seroux: Don Alberto had tried to lease Empire Maker to Chile for the last three years, and they had been in touch with the JBBA hoping to shuttle the horse. But the JBBA was not receptive to that idea, so it came to a point that they thought the best strategy may be to purchase the horse instead of leasing him.

Carlos Heller, the principal of Don Alberto, contacted Antony Beck himself. Don Alberto has a lot of nice mares and a very nice farm, but at the moment they are not set up to stand stallions in Kentucky yet. Maybe that will be something coming up in the future, but I can't speak for them on that aspect.

After being the best farm in Chile for years, Don Alberto is trying to establish the best farm they can (in Kentucky) and have access to the best stallions. They purchased a very nice farm in Kentucky three years ago, and they have purchased a lot of very good mares, so acquiring Empire Maker made a lot of sense for their business plan.

The fact that Don Alberto came into Kentucky only in the last three years and has made such a significant move to bring the stallion back to Kentucky speaks volumes about their goal and that they're very serious about the whole business. BH
