SHARED BELIEF DIES AFTER COLIC SURGERY

By Lenny Shulman

Shared Belief, champion 2-year-old male of 2013, died Dec. 3 after being felled by a bout of colic. Shared Belief, attempting to return from a hip fracture, was in trainer Jerry Hollendorfer's barn at Golden Gate Fields.

According to co-owner Alex Solis II, Shared Belief trained well the morning of Dec. 3 but, after being returned to his stall, broke out in a sweat and became unresponsive. Quickly transferred to the University of California-Davis School of Veterinary Medicine, he was diagnosed with a possible rupture. Surgery could not save him.

"He wasn't a big horse, but he turned out to be bigger than life, the kind of special horse you dream about," said Solis.

Bred in Kentucky by Pam and Marty Wygod, the gelded son of Candy Ride won 10 of 12 starts and $2,932,200, including five grade I events.

Said co-owner Jim Rome, "Today we have suffered a devastating loss. As heartbreaking as today is, we consider ourselves so fortunate to have been a part of this amazing animal's life."

KEENELAND JANUARY SALE: 1,796 LOTS

By Evan Hammonds

Six-year-old Up, in foal to War Front, sold for $2.2 million at the 2015 Keeneland January sale

Keeneland announced Dec. 3 its 2016 January sale will catalog 1,796 horses over five days, from Jan. 11-15. Last year's four-day run cataloged 1,610 horses.

Comparisons of breeding stock sales are difficult from year to year, but last year's sale, where 1,267 horses went through the ring, brought in $35,305,500. Nearly a third of that total—$3 million—was for two horses. The 6-year-old mare Up, in foal to War Front, sold to Ran Jan Racing and Jan Vandebos, for $2.2 million. Up's short yearling filly by War Front sold to agents Alex Solis II and Jason Litt for $800,000.

The 2016 catalog includes 729 short yearlings. During this year's sale 324 short yearlings sold for an average of $31,847.

The auction also features two dispersals: the estate of Eric A. Delvalle, consigned by Brandywine Farms, agent; and the estate of Sarah J. Leigh, Denali Stud, agent. BH

'SELECTIVE' TATTS MARE SALE OFF 3%

By Evan Hammonds

A low-key final session closed the curtain on Tattersalls' December mare sale Dec. 3, with gross receipts of 647,500 guineas ($1,033,410) for the 120 sold. Last year's comparable session saw 141 sell for 1,055,900 guineas.

Lamps of Heaven, the top-selling lot on the final day of the Tattersalls December Mare sale Dec. 3 the session-topper at 32,000 guineas ($50,235).

The four-day mare sale grossed 46,513,500 guineas ($74,235,545) for 680 mares. The 68,402 guineas ($109,170) average fell 3.0% from last year's 70,497 guineas. The median rose from 26,000 guineas to 28,000 ($44,688) guineas. Top prices at the sale came for broodmare Hanky Panky in foal to Dubawi (2.7 million guineas, $4,268,376) and champion Tiggy Wiggy (2.1 million guineas, $3,319,848)

"Selective," a term used throughout U.S. sales at all segments of the market for the last two years was also at play at Tattersalls.

WOODBINE MOVES IN A NEW DIRECTION

By Myra Lewyn

Woodbine plans to run 25 right-handed turf races in 2016, becoming the first North American track to do so in the modern era.

Jim Lawson, Woodbine Entertainment Group president and chief executive officer, devised the idea to attract more horses and new fans to the Ontario track. Race conditions, a strategy to fill the races, and purse money are among details still in the planning stages.

Track officials believe a portion of Woodbine's underutilized turf course would fit well with clockwise racing. If the program is successful, another finish line for a longer stretch might be added.

North America's counterclockwise racing tradition started when Kentucky frontiersman William Whitley laid out a circular racetrack near Crab Orchard, Ky., in 1788.

Woodbine plans to conduct 25 turf races run clockwise in 2016

According to legend Whitley so despised all things British the annual fall races at his Sportsman Hill were run counterclockwise on a clay track rather than clockwise on turf as at many English tracks.

Belmont Park ran clockwise races when it opened in 1905 but returned to left-handed racing in 1921. BH

BETFAIR AGREES ON FUNDING FOR BHA

By Ron Mitchell

Following the Dec. 3 announcement that Betfair has become the first betting entity to agree to a new three-year funding arrangement for racing in Great Britain, the British Horseracing Authority said other operators would likely follow suit.

As an authorized betting partner, effective April 2016, Betfair will contribute an agreed percentage of its racing revenues from its exchange and sports book for three years. In return, Betfair—and other companies that follow suit—will receive benefits from being associated with the BHA.

Betfair and other betting companies already make payments through the Levy, but those funds have been shrinking as more wagering is conducted through electronic platforms—a majority of British betting operators do not pay into Levy on digital business, most of which are offshore-based. The new funding scheme seeks to correct that.

If no action had been taken, BHA estimated Levy payments would drop to £53 million by 2017-18, down from more than £105 million in 2004-05. BH

Jim Lawson, CEO of Woodbine Entertainment Group

MARKETWATCH INTERVIEW: JIM LAWSON

By Eric Mitchell

MarketWatch spoke with Jim Lawson, who took over as CEO of Woodbine Entertainment Group in May, about the growth of turf racing at the Toronto racetrack.

Blood-Horse Daily: Woodbine has decided to offer at least one turf race to be run clockwise on each Saturday from May 24 through November 2016. What are the opportunities in growing turf racing?

Jim Lawson: First, we have one of the best turf courses in North America, maybe the world, with the E.P. Taylor course that is a spectacular 1 1/2 miles. That clubhouse turn doesn't get used much except for races of 1 1/4 miles and 1 1/2 miles, which we rarely do with our overnight racing. As a result, a good portion of the turf course doesn't get used so that is why we looked at running clockwise.

Next, we are in competition for horses and growing turf racing is a good way to attract more horses and it fits very well with the change of our main track (from Polytrack) to Tapeta. Because of the biomechanics, horses that run well on turf also run well on Tapeta so our scratch rate from turf to the main track will likely be around 10%, which is much lower than the industry average.

Finally from a wagering perspective, we average 1.2 more horses in our turf races, so the correlation between our larger field size and more wagering is obvious. But we also know that it is not just field size. Our major wagers tell us they prefer wagering on turf versus dirt—about 35% higher on turf. Skilled players love the variables and the challenges of figuring out turf races—the pedigree, the surface, and even riders who know how to figure out that turf course.

We are looking at adding another turf course. There are a fair number of hurdles to make that happen, but we would like to see the day when we are running six races a day on the turf.

BH Daily: Woodbine is replacing one synthetic surface for another. Was there a push to replace the synthetic with a dirt surface?

JL: The synthetic we had in place for eight years was, quite frankly, getting tired. It was actually clumping up in cold weather. We conducted a long consultation with horsemen, analyzed it from a business perspective in terms of scratches and training time that concluded the Tapeta surface was best. The push to dirt was not that strong. There were a number of vocal people but the majority of our horsemen favored Tapeta. Surface experts will tell you a safe track is a consistent track. I'm not saying a dirt track can't be consistent, but we know Tapeta is. BH
