Tonalist, winner of the Nov. 28 Cigar Mile, will stand at Lane's End in Kentucky in 2016 for a fee of $40,000, the farm announced Dec. 9

TONALIST RETIRED TO LANE'S END

By Evan Hammonds

November's off-the-table deal is on again: Robert S. Evans' four-time grade I winner Tonalist has been retired to Lane's End.

Lane's End previously obtained a share in the 4-year-old son of Tapit who counts the 2014 Belmont Stakes and Cigar Mile (both gr. I) among six graded wins, but the arrangement fell through last year.

"That first deal was made a year or so ago; that's old news," Evans said Dec. 9. "I sold a quarter of him to Lane's End and they let me out of the deal. I wanted to race him this year to prove he could run a mile, not just a mile and a half, and we won two graded races at a mile. Lane's End called after the Cigar Mile and thought they could make it work."

Tonalist, who will stand for $40,000, joins top-end first-year stallions Honor Code and Liam's Map at Lane's End.

"I was afraid they would soak up all the good mares, but they said they are oversubscribed," Evans said. "I plan on breeding 15-20 of my mares to him."

THROWBACK: FULL SISTERS AND THE STARLET

By Tom Hall

This week's Throwback Thursday is actually more of a "Toss" than a "Throw." Los Alamitos' Starlet Stakes is the only grade I race this weekend, and some superstar juvenile fillies—champions Althea, Outstandingly, and Take Charge Brandi—are among the winners in the 34 previous editions.

In 2013 Hill 'n' Dale Equine Holdings and Edward McGhee's homebred Streaming, trained by Bob Baffert, won the Starlet. This year they're back with probable entrant Treasuring, second-place finisher in Del Mar's Desi Arnaz Stakes in November.

By the late Smart Strike, the full sisters are from the unraced Storm Cat mare Teeming, who has also produced stakes winner Cascading (A.P. Indy) and stakes-placed Distracting (Distorted Humor) and Gifting (Street Cry), all fillies.

Teeming is a daughter of 2007 Kentucky Broodmare of the Year Better Than Honour. Dam of back-to-back Belmont Stakes (gr. I) winners Jazil and Rags to Riches, she is a daughter of Deputy Minister from the internationally influential family of Best in Show, 1982's Kentucky Broodmare of the Year. BH

Treasuring, a full sister to Streaming, winner of the 2013 Starlet at Hollywood Park (pictured), will attempt to win the grade I stakes Dec. 12

GODOLPHIN COLT EYES GOLDEN SLIPPER

By Tara Madgwick

The first week of summer in Australia has seen the emergence of two potential standouts on opposite sides of the country, both by North American-bred shuttle sires.

Godolphin raced what it believes is its best 2-year-old colt at Randwick in Sydney Dec. 5, and Astern (Medaglia d'Oro) justified the opinion with an easy win. Trained by John O'Shea, the handsome bay will now have a short break before being prepared for the group I Golden Slipper March 19, 2016.

A Darley homebred, Astern comes from a highly successful Australian female family tracing to champion filly and five-time group I winner Triscay.

The major race run last weekend was the Kingston Town Classic (Aus-I) in Perth, won by the unbeaten 3-year-old filly Perfect Reflection (More Than Ready)—now five-for-five, including a group III victory. A homebred for prominent Western Australia owner/breeders Bob and Sandra Peters, she fought to the finish with another Peters homebred, Delicacy (Al Maher), last season's Australian 3-year-old filly champion. BH

COULD 3D SCANNING LIMIT BREAKDOWNS?

By Frank Angst

Sheila Lyons of the American College of Veterinary Sports Medicine envisions a day when regulatory veterinarians will use portable, equine 3D CT scanners on standing horses in pre-race exams to combat breakdowns.

Lyons, who made her presentation Dec. 9 at the University of Arizona Symposium on Racing and Gaming, held in Tucson, earned the audience award ($1,000) for her call for a study at three Thoroughbred tracks where every horse would be scanned to gather information and identify microfractures linked to catastrophic breakdowns. Information from the scans is produced in detailed 3D imagery.

"Microfractures are a ticking time bomb," Lyons said, noting that regulatory vets may get only 10 minutes to evaluate a horse in a pre-race exam. She said the $300,000 scanners would provide an invaluable tool in improving those exams. "The time has come to turn our collective wishes for making this sport as safe as it can be into a reality."

The top award ($15,000) during the symposium's Innovators' Circle session went to SwopStakes, a proposed pari-mutuel wager that incorporates aspects of exchange wagering. BH

STATUS QUO NOT HELPING HANDLE

There has been a flurry of activity this year in the pari-mutuel business, but it hardly qualifies as inspiring. What it has done is further drive home the point that the industry doesn't understand—or more likely doesn't want to repair—its economic structure.

It has been a year of the "jackpot" bet, guaranteed pools that are nothing more than marketing stunts, and questionable claims of reduced pari-mutuel takeout on said gimmick wagers. Given that total wagering on U.S. races this year is on par with 2014, the strategy doesn't appear to be working.

Bettors who understand pari-mutuel racing are quite vocal on social media and in blogs, and their message is simple: Horse racing's pricing structure isn't competitive with many other forms of gambling. They admit state lotteries are popular with the masses despite outrageous rakes, but at the same time note that the lottery model doesn't fit the pari-mutuel business.

There's a reason slot machines often pay back 91% of money bet to customers, even though the devices are jackpot-driven. It's called churn. Casinos like nothing more than having customers play slots for hours on end, and low takeout allows that; a recent study indicated when less money is returned to the customer, slots play declines.

Pari-mutuel wagering is all about churn, and the largest pools on average are the combined straight bets—win, place, and show—and exactas. They are also the wagers potential fans and players can understand with minimal education. They are ripe for lower takeout rates because they offer the best opportunities for churn.

Why spend money on fan development when you're in effect inviting people to partake in a game with a flawed economic model? Why not fix the model first and give people another incentive to become involved?

Horse racing is a great game because it's a sport, entertainment, and a cerebral exercise for those who handicap and wager. The last-named aspect is the foundation for the revenue that supports it, and protecting that requires a comprehensive strategy, not simply jackpot bets that can drain the bankroll of the average player.

Maintaining the status quo amid stagnation and dysfunction is a recipe for eventual failure. Such a scenario is more likely when there's a leadership vacuum at the top—that's one of the biggest problems for horse racing and perhaps other businesses for that matter. But that's not likely to soon change.

The answer lies with racetracks and horsemen's groups. One or two can't go it alone; the few that have attempted substantial takeout reductions have been shut out of the simulcast marketplace. It's past time to sacrifice in the short term by finding optimal rates that can grow handle and sustain revenue.

Who's game? BH

Pari-mutuel wagering in 2015 is on par with last year, but there are no indications of substantive growth moving forward
