F-T WINTER SALE ENDS WITH DECLINES

By Ron Mitchell

Topped by graded stakes winner Flashy American ($395,000) and Funfair ($350,000), the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky winter mixed sale ended Feb. 9 with across-the-board declines in key categories.

The sales company reported 341 horses grossed $8,260,600 (down 21.7% from 2015), averaged $24,225 (-6.9%), and brought a $9,500 median (-20.8%). The 20.8% buy-back rate was up from 17.6% at last year's sale.

Fasig-Tipton president and CEO Boyd Browning Jr. described the results of the sale as "a broken record," meaning that the trends seen at sales last year continue with highly selective buyers keying in on the better-quality individuals. Meanwhile, demand for lower-valued stock remains relatively light.

"Tremendous competition and great demand for quality," Browning said, "whether you are selling broodmare prospects, mares in foal, or yearlings. There is a real thirst and desire for quality, and if you don't meet the standards that the buyers have for the quality threshold, it's not fun selling horses. It is also not fun trying to buy that quality horse because of the competition." BH

Sale-topper Flashy American is in foal to Orb and will likely be bred back to Tapit

FLASHY AMERICAN TOPS SECOND SESSION

By Tom LaMarra

Four horses sold for more than $300,000 Feb. 9 during the second session of the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky winter mixed sale, and 7-year-old mare Flashy American topped them all at $395,000 when she was purchased by Blue Sky Stable.

Gainesway connections signed the ticket for the four-time stakes winner—including one grade III—who is in foal to Kentucky Derby (gr. I) winner Orb. Gainesway general manager Neil Howard said the mare most likely will be bred to Tapit, who stands at the farm.

Flashy American sold for $360,000 at the Fasig-Tipton November mixed sale last year, but came on the market again. Howard said she is a good fit for Gainesway's program and they were fortunate to get her.

"It's difficult to buy mares of quality," Howard said. "We would have liked to have had her for a little less than that, so we pushed further than we intended to (on the price). It's all about quality, and she fits a horse like Tapit. That's the direction we're leaning."

Flashy American was consigned by Taylor Made Sales Agency. BH

Three mares in foal to Scat Daddy averaged $236,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky winter mixed sale

MARES IN FOAL TO SCAT DADDY POPULAR

By Ron Mitchell

Scat Daddy's untimely death in December at age 11 was a factor in the strong demand for mares in foal to Ashford Stud's prominent stallion at the Fasig-Tipton winter mixed sale.

Led by More Than Ready's daughter Funfair, purchased by Olin Gentry for the sale's second-highest price of $350,000, Scat Daddy was represented by three in foal mares that brought $710,000 combined, an average of $236,000.

"The Scat Daddy had a lot to do with it," Gentry said. "She is a nice mare."

Maggie d'Oro, a Medaglia d'Oro mare in foal to Scat Daddy, topped the Feb. 8 first session when purchased by Green Lantern Stables from the Select Sales consignment for $210,000.

"She's in foal to Scat Daddy, and you can't get any more," said Green Lantern's Patrick Masson.

"Losing Scat Daddy was a real loss to the American breeding industry," said F-T president and CEO Boyd Browning Jr. "He was a stallion who provided great versatility on dirt and grass and had appeal to Americans and Europeans and was coming into his own." BH

CHINA HORSE CLUB ACTIVE AT F-T WINTER

By Eric Mitchell

The momentum of China Horse Club's activity at auction last year is carrying right into 2016.

A self-described premier racing, business, and life-style club, China Horse Club has already spent more than $8.8 million on 42 horses at sales in Australia and the United States. A majority of the purchases made so far this year were at the Magic Millions Gold Coast yearling sale, which includes several bought with WinStar Farm.

The club has also been acquiring breeding stock, having purchased three mares Feb. 9 for $275,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky winter mixed sale. The top price was $150,000 for Bonnie Bear, a 14-year-old daughter of Gone West believed to be in foal to Scat Daddy. Darby Dan Farm, as agent, sold the mare, whose second dam is multiple graded stakes producer Amelia Bearhart.

While China Horse Club has invested primarily in yearlings, it did purchase 14 broodmares in 2015 for nearly $3 million. It has not bought broodmares at U.S. sales since 2014. BH

Mshawish winning the Donn Handicap, his first grade I on dirt

MSHAWISH A MAIN-TRACK FORCE

By Frank Angst

The experiment of trying Mshawish on dirt officially can be categorized as a success after Al Shaqab Racing's 6-year-old son of Medaglia d'Oro overwhelmed his Donn Handicap (gr. I) competition to score a two-length victory Feb. 6 at Gulfstream Park.

Already a grade I winner on turf—having taken the Gulfstream Park Turf Handicap (gr. IT) about one year before his Donn victory—Mshawish earned the week's top Equibase Speed Figure at 120. In his first three career dirt starts Mshawish has earned a 100, when fourth in the Cigar Mile (gr. I) Nov. 28 at Aqueduct; a 119 in winning the Hal's Hope (gr. III), again going a one-turn mile Jan. 9 at Gulfstream; and then the 120 for the 1 1/8-mile Donn, his first two-turn dirt try.

After the Donn trainer Todd Pletcher was leaning toward starting Mshawish in the Dubai World Cup (UAE-I). Mshawish has shown he can handle traveling to Dubai as he registered his career-best ESF (122) in winning the 2014 Zabeel Mile (UAE-II) on turf. BH

TO BE CONTINUED IN TEXAS

By Eric Mitchell

The fate of Texas racing hung in the balance Feb. 9 when the Texas Racing Commission met for yet another vote on implementing historical racing machines.

If the commission repealed the rules governing the electronic games, commission funding would be preserved for the rest of the year and keep live racing and simulcasting going. If it kept the rules, the hope of building up racing through gaming stayed alive but commission funding would be in jeopardy. Without a functioning commission, there is no racing or simulcasting.

The build-up saw no resolution due to a temporary restraining order secured by the Texas Greyhound Association.

"Harm is imminent...plaintiff will be irreparably injured because a repeal of the rule will cause the Texas Greyhound Association to have lost the expenditures, time and other resources used in the preparation of...historical racing," the order stated.

COURTESY KENTUCKY DOWNS

The fate of historical racing in Texas got delayed Feb. 9 by a temporary restraining order

Surprised commissioners adjourned without action. The restraining order hearing is scheduled before the Cameron County district court Feb. 18. The racing commission's temporary funding expires at the end of the month. BH

EVALUATING FOAL SHARING

If you're inclined toward participating in "foal share" deals, now is the time for action. By mid-February stallion managers have a good idea how many seasons they can sell, and if books are not full, managers will often consider foal-sharing deals.

"Foal sharing" and "breed secure" deals are variants of the "pay out of proceeds" concept that allows a breeder to defer paying stud fees until the resulting foal is sold. There are differences between the two approaches. Typically, a breed secure agreement cedes the first $10,000 or so to the breeder, but never costs more than the stud fee. Foal sharing, however, requires the breeder and stallion owner to split sales proceeds, with 50-60% typically going to the breeder. A breed secure deal almost always benefits the breeder more than a foal sharing, but there is an important caveat. Foal sharing is more common among higher-priced stallions not associated with a breed secure incentive.

Sales (and less frequently other) expenses are often paid out of sales proceeds before the split. If you have a marvelous mare, it's logical you should receive more favorable terms, but because most farms are reluctant to cede more than 50% or 60% to the breeder, a breeder usually has to move up the stallion quality ladder to get a fair deal for a great mare.

If the goal is to make a profit, it makes little sense to foal share to a stallion with a stud fee below $15,000 to $20,000. If you foal share to a $10,000 stallion and split net proceeds of $25,000 50-50, you end up with $12,500, which rarely covers your mare and foal expenses. Paying the $10,000 stud fee so you could net $15,000 would have been a better option.

Foal sharing does offer advantages, such as lower risk, no sales tax, and access to a higher-end stallion. The disadvantages include some contract provisions that require splitting breeder awards pro rata and the breeder who gets a great foal may have to pay more than the stud fee.

The more likely candidates for foal sharing deals are proven stallions with low sale-price-to-stud-fee ratios, decreased numbers of mares bred, and runners that are (hopefully temporarily) not making headlines. Third- and fourth-year stallions are also prime candidates. Somewhere in my files is a letter from Overbrook Farm stating that my mare Goose Flesh, a stakes-placed Master Willie daughter I claimed, almost made the cut for a foal share to Storm Cat his fourth year at stud. I didn't get lucky, but some mares (or was it breeders?) with better pedigrees did. BH

2016 SIRES BY LIFETIME AEI

Listed below are the top 10 leading sires by lifetime Average Earnings Index (AEI) through February 8, 2016. Only active stallions in North America (excluding stallions that were exported prior to the 2011 breeding season) with at least 150 named foals of racing age are included. All statistics are Northern Hemisphere only. AEI indicates how much purse money the progeny of one sire has earned in relation to the average earnings of all runners in the same years; average earnings of all runners in any year is represented by an index of 1.00. CI indicates the average earnings of progeny produced from mares bred to one sire, when these same mares were bred to other sires.
