EHV-1 OUTBREAK COULD IMPACT SUNLAND DERBY

By Ron Mitchell

Sunland Park Racetrack & Casino officials continue efforts to contain an outbreak of equine herpesvirus that halted racing at the New Mexico track since Jan. 22.

It could also affect the track's signature race, the $800,000 Sunland Derby (gr. III) March 20. Ethan Linder, track director of marketing, said once the outbreak is under control and Sunland has a plan in place to resume racing, it would make a decision on the status of the Derby.

Since the outbreak occurred, 64 horses have tested positive, the latest Feb. 11; however, some have been released from the isolation barn. As of Feb. 12 about 40 horses remain isolated. Six horses have died as a result of the disease.

Linder said racing will remain suspended for 14 days from the time of each new positive, making the end of February the earliest racing could resume.

"Everybody's focus is trying to stop the virus and resume racing," Linder said. BH

Multiple graded stakes winner Om will face off against four others, including grade I winner Obviously, in the Arcadia

SPEEDSTERS FACE OFF IN ARCADIA

By Jeremy Balan

With the scratches of Prospect Park and Big Cazanova, the Feb. 13 Arcadia Stakes (gr. IIT) field at Santa Anita Park will be short on numbers but long on quality.

Headlining the five-horse field are multiple grade I winner Obviously and multiple graded victor Om. Each likes to have his way on the front end.

There's little doubt where the Phil D'Ama-to-trained Obviously will be when the gates open. The 8-year-old son of Choisir runs to the front pretty much every time—as did Om until his last two races.

In the Hollywood Derby (gr. IT), Om (Munnings) sat just off the pace to finish third and he did the same to win the Mathis Brothers Mile (gr. IIT) under a hand ride.

An early duel may set the table for off-the-pace runners, like Cape Wolfe (Piccolo)—a three-time winner in Ireland who made mild gains to finish third sprinting down the Santa Anita hillside turf course in his Jan. 24 Stateside debut, the Clocker's Corner Stakes. BH

FILLY AIMS TO ADD TO NOBLE FIRE'S LEGACY

By Claire Novak

When Hot City Girl contests the Feb. 13 Barbara Fritchie Stakes (gr. II) at Laurel Park, her dam Noble Fire (Hook and Ladder) could be foaling the latest in a short but impressive line of successful runners.

The 11-year-old dam of Eclipse Award champion female sprinter La Verdad, obtained privately by Three Chimneys Farm, was bred to Will Take Charge for 2016. The world should soon meet the new little one, as Noble Fire "is sitting in the foaling barn waiting to pop any day," said broodmare manager Steve Spittler.

Noble Fire, who was left open for 2011 and 2015, will be sent next to Pioneer of the Nile.

"You get an Eclipse Award winner, and you move on up in the world," Spittler said.

From three foals to race, Noble Fire has produced stakes winner N. F.'s Destiny (Cuvee), grade II winner La Verdad (Yes It's True), and grade III winner Hot City Girl (City Zip). Linda Rice is greatly vested in the family as the trainer of both Noble Fire and City Zip, as well as all three of Noble Fire's runners to date—with Hot City Girl and the recently retired La Verdad both running for Lady Sheila Stable.

Noble Fire's fourth foal, however, sold at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky October yearling sale for $30,000 to Dwight Pruett's Xpress Thoroughbreds—the same operation that sends out

WV BILL COULD THREATEN LIVE RACING

By Tom LaMarra

West Virginia Horsemen's groups have been well aware of state lawmakers' intentions to terminate live dog racing, and they warn the effort could extend to Thoroughbred racing at Hollywood Casino at Charles Town Races and Mountaineer Casino, Racetrack & Resort.

COURTESY MOUNTAINEER PARK

Tracks in West Virginia would not be required to hold live racing under proposed legislation

On Feb. 12 legislation was referred to the Senate Finance Committee that would remove a requirement for video lottery terminal licensees—race-tracks—to have a racing license.

In Florida, where similar legislation is being considered, the practice is called decoupling.

The bill also would remove language requiring a track to have a contract with the representative horsemen's group regarding the amount of VLT revenue going to purses.

"This bill would no longer require live racing at Charles Town and Mountaineer if those racing associations chose not to retain their racing licenses, but they could continue to retain their video lottery and table games licenses," a horsemen's memo states.

Given that the legislation was just introduced, horsemen's groups say they will continue to make their case for protecting live racing and breeding in West Virginia, as well as educate lawmakers on the industry's economic impact for the state. BH

DISCREETNESS SEEKS THIRD STAKES VICTORY

By Alastair Bull

Arkansas-trained Discreetness attempts to hold off California invader Collected and 12 others in the Southwest Stakes (gr. III) at Oaklawn Park Feb. 15.

Discreetness (Discreet Cat), trained by Jinks Fires, breaks from the outside gate. He has won two stakes, the latest being Oaklawn's Jan. 18 Smarty Jones.

Three horses that finished behind him that day are back for another go: second-placed Gordy Florida (Cactus Ridge), third-placed Synchrony (Tapit), and fourth-placed Luna de Loco (Malibu Moon).

Shipping from Bob Baffert's California-based stable is Collected (City Zip), an impressive winner of the Sham Stakes (gr. III) at Santa Anita Jan. 9. He will leave from the inside barrier as he attempts to give Baffert a fifth Southwest Stakes winner since 2010 (two came when the race ran split divisions in 2012).

Siding Spring (Warrior's Reward) runs for the first time since finishing 10th in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile (gr. I). Also contesting the race is two-time winner

Discreetness faces many of the same horses he beat in the Smarty Jones Stakes

Whitmore (Pleasantly Perfect) and Pennsylvania Nursery Stakes winner Bird of Trey (Birdstone). BH

SAM HOUSTON TREND: TAKEOUT DOWN, PURSES UP

Sam Houston Race Park officials could offer opinions on the track's many low-takeout wagers, but they figure that pricing every horizontal wager (Daily Double, Pick 3, Pick 4, Pick 5) at 12% for a fourth straight year says volumes.

That is to say, if low pricing wasn't working; Sam Houston wouldn't be bringing the 12% rate back each season. Examining the track's numbers suggests the low rates are working for horseplayers, the track, and horsemen.

Takeout is money removed from each pari-mutuel pool to fund the sport, with most of it divided between tracks and horsemen's purses. In 2012 Sam Houston had industry-typical takeout rates for its Daily Double and Pick 4 wagers of 21% and 25%, respectively. But in 2013 the Houston track reduced those rates to 12%. Sam Houston previously had lowered its Pick 3 rate to 12% and also offered its new Pick 5 at 12%.

For players this means winning tickets return more money. For instance, for a $25,000 Pick 4 pool that sees 15 winners, a 25% takeout would see each winner receive $1,250, but a 12% takeout results in each player getting $1,467.

But cuts in takeout rates can't only work for players. Long-term, they have to work for the track and horsemen's purses.

Using the previous example, at a 25% rate the wager earns $6,250 for the industry but at 12% it's just $3,000. In general terms, when the Pick 4 takeout was more than halved and the Daily Double was nearly cut in half, the track would need to double its handle on the wagers to continue to generate the revenue it had been garnering on those two wagers.

While handle on these wagers at Sam Houston hasn't doubled, the track has seen enough improvement to keep the rates in place. Since cutting the Pick 4 takeout rate, Sam Houston said the wager's handle is up 59% (2012 compared with 2015). Daily Double handle is up 39% (using 2013 for comparison as that was the year rolling doubles were added).

Track officials believe the low-takeout wagers have attracted players and added action (churn as players return added winnings to betting pools). Sam Houston's numbers point to those trends.

Sam Houston's Thoroughbred meet handle has increased 33% from 2012 to 2015 to $51.3 million (handle per race day is up 35% to $986,538). This improvement has come in years that total U.S. handle is down 1.9% and per-day handle is up 14%.

The most telling numbers may be purses. From 2012-2015, Sam Houston's total purses improved 6.9% to $5.2 million, a stretch that saw U.S. purses fall 3%. The improvement is especially impressive because Sam Houston does not have added gaming and relies solely on its pari-mutuel product to generate purse money. BH
