COURTESY CONGRESSMAN PAUL TONKO

U.S. Rep. Paul Tonko of New York introduced the Thoroughbred Horseracing Integrity Act of 2015

HEARING DESIGNED TO 'BUILD BRIDGES'

By Tom LaMarra

An April 28 hearing on federal legislation that would put the United States Anti-Doping Agency in charge of equine medication policy, testing, and enforcement is designed in part to "build bridges," according to U.S. Rep. Paul Tonko of New York.

Tonko was at the forefront of the Thoroughbred Horseracing Integrity Act of 2015, which he introduced last spring. In an April 27 interview, Tonko said members of the Congressional Horse Caucus who will take part in the hearing at the U.S. Capitol "are very much interested in the bill as are outsiders to the caucus."

Tonko said he would have liked the bill to have been heard in a congressional subcommittee or committee at this point because "there is a degree of urgency to the bill." He said members of Congress he has spoken with have been receptive to the legislation.

"Tons of bills are introduced every year (in Congress)," Tonko said. "This one is in the mix. We're doing everything we can to gain laser-sharp focus on this issue. A hearing like this is at least a forum to draw people's attention to the issue at hand." BH

FIRST US WINNER FOR ASTROLOGY

By Alastair Bull

Taylor Made Stallions' Astrology had his first United States winner, and second overall, when Capt. Grider won at Keeneland April 27.

Capt. Grider overcame a three-length deficit well into the stretch to nab Jersey Street (Maimonides) at the wire in the 4 1/2 -furlong, $50,000 race for jockey Paco Lopez.

"Congrats to Capt. Grider's breeder Kings and Queens Farm and trainer Dante Zanelli," Taylor Made Stallions stated via Twitter. "They are breeding-right holders in Astrology."

Capt. Grider is from the first crop of Astrology. By A.P. Indy out of Quiet Eclipse, by Quiet American, Astrology won the Iroquois (gr. III) at 2 and was third in the Preakness (gr. I) behind Shackleford and Animal Kingdom. Capt. Grider is out of the Dynaformer mare Majestic Dy, whose progeny include Al Qasr, a Peruvian Horse of the Year, and Delicate Dynamite, second in the Kentucky Cup Distaff (gr. III).

He is the second winner for his sire, the first being Mi Querido Capi, winner of a maiden race at Hipodromo de las Americas in Mexico City April 1.

Astrology, who has two winners from three starters, stands at Taylor Made, near Nicholasville, Ky., for $6,500. BH

SALES UPDATE

POST-SALE DEALS GAVE OBS A BOOST

By Ron Mitchell

Not long after a Scat Daddy colt consigned to the recent Ocala Breeders' Sales Co.'s spring sale of 2-year-olds in training left the sales ring unsold, he was purchased privately for $180,000 in a transaction reflected in totals reported by the sales company.

Greg Dodd, whose Southern Chase consigned the colt, said the final bid in the ring was $190,000 and a short time later Mathis Stable bought the colt.

Over the course of the four-day auction, "post-sale" receipts totaled more than $3.3 million, representing 6.3% of the sale's $52.5 million gross.

Florida law requires OBS to report post-sale transactions on summaries and sale archives. Since the post-sale price is generally within close proximity of the final bid, there is little incentive for the seller not to report such deals to the sales company.

The commission is levied on either the final RNA bid or the post-sale price. Post-sale purchases are bound by the OBS Conditions of Sale, providing a level of protection to both buyer and seller, OBS sales director Tod Wojciechowski said.

At Keeneland, private sales are not listed on the official sale summaries, and it is up to the parties involved whether they want a sale to be included in a separate "RNA to Sale" section of the website. Regardless of whether it is publicly disclosed, the sale is subject to the Keeneland commission based on the private sale, not the RNA bid price.

For Keeneland's January horses of all ages sale, 63 private sales were reported on the website.

"Anything that appears on the sales summary has to have gone through the sales ring," said Keene-land sales director Geoffrey Russell.

Fasig-Tipton includes the post-sale purchases on its daily results when they take place on the day the horse goes through the ring and if it happens before the summary is released. Otherwise, according to Fasig-Tipton president and chief executive officer Boyd Browning Jr., the sale is not included in the totals and it is between buyer and seller without the sales company being involved.

Browning said Fasig-Tipton attempted to adjust sale results as post-sale transactions were reported following an auction, but the reporting process became a logistical issue and was abandoned.

Like OBS, Fasig-Tipton must comply with the Florida law on post-sale transactions at its one-day March sale, but Browning said very few of those take place at that sale.

While Fasig-Tipton misses out on potentially higher commissions when a post-sale deal is greater than the hammer price and it doesn't go through the sales company, Browning said the sales company is "trying to facilitate commerce and we are happy to participate in that process." BH

UNUSUAL WORK BY JAPAN'S DERBY RUNNER

By Jennie Rees

Japan's Kentucky Derby (gr. I) challenger Lani doesn't believe in training the expected way.

The UAE Derby (UAE-II) winner declined to kick into full gear for jockey Yutaka Take at Churchill Downs April 27 until after a quarter-mile of what was designed to be a five-eighths work.

He picked it up midway through the turn to get an official time of :37 2/5, galloping out a half-mile in :50 3/5. Churchill clockers caught the first eighth of the timed portion in :14.

According to interpreter Kieta Tanaka, agent for Lani's owners, that's how the son of Tapit can be sometimes.

"He was a little shy, shyer than what I thought, for accelerating," Take said through Tanaka. "But after the quarter pole, he did a good gallop for two furlongs and after the finish pole."

Tanaka said that "even back home, he sometimes does something like what you saw this morning. It's not a big concern."

Take said Lani's temperament is such that he's not always willing to run, but "if he wants to run on Derby Day, we have a big chance."

The jockey said he wouldn't know which Lani will show up until they break from the gate.

If Lani, a Kentucky-bred son of the super stallion Tapit, wins the Derby, it will be with the most unorthodox training, by American standards, since Canonero II came from Venezuela and proved in 1971 that there is more than one method to success.

Lani, who has been at Churchill Downs since April 3, was supposed to work five-eighths last week after galloping a mile. But that training session also started extremely slowly before the colt picked up the pace on the turn, his final 1:06 time barely making the cutoff to have a published workout.

That work was by design to be devoid of speed, his camp said, adding this work would have more speed.

Take also rode the first Japanese-based horse to run in the Derby, Ski Captain, who finished 14th in the 1995 race won by Thunder Gulch.

"For a very long time, I have been wishing to ride in the Derby again," the jockey said through Tanaka. "The time has come now, and I'm very excited about it. ... For the jockeys riding outside the U.S., it's extremely difficult to even get a ride in the Kentucky Derby. So I understand how precious the experience this time will be."

Lani taking on America's best 3-year-olds in the Derby is a big story in Japan. A video crew from Western Japan's Kansai Telecasting Corp. was in town working on a Lani documentary. BH

ROYAL ASCOT CONFIRMED FOR MOTION FILLY

By Sarah Troxell

Royal Ascot racegoers will see a very different Miss Temple City this year than the one who ran fourth in the 2015 Coronation Stakes (Eng-I).

Trainer Graham Motion has confirmed the Temple City filly will head back to the Royal meeting, aimed at the Duke of Cambridge (Eng-II) June 15.

In her most recent start, she beat males in the Maker's 46 Mile (gr. IT) at Keeneland.

"She has grown and looks totally different to what she looked like last year," Motion said. "She is bigger and has much more weight on her. She has gone from being a nice big filly to basically looking like a colt.

"She is really doing well, and it is all systems go for Royal Ascot."

Miss Temple City is expected to arrive the Friday before Royal Ascot and stay at David Lanigan's yard, as she did in 2015.

Representing part-owners The Club, Sean Feld said

METABOSS RETURNS WITH DICKINSON

By Blood-Horse Staff

Trainer Michael Dickinson, who retired seven years ago but announced his return to training last year, won with the first horse he saddled upon his return April 2 at Laurel Park.

He'll try to make it two-for-two when he saddles grade III winner Metaboss, who hasn't raced in 13 months, in a grass allowance race at Laurel April 29.

Metaboss, who won the grade III El Camino Real Derby early last year, underwent surgery last spring to remove an ankle chip. Owned by a partnership that includes California-based bloodstock agent Mersad Metanovic and Nevada-based Daniel Preiss, Metaboss was injured while training up to the 2015 American Turf (gr. IIT) at Churchill Downs.

Purchased by Metanovic for $10,000 at the 2012 Keeneland November breeding stock sale, Metaboss, a 4-year-old Street Boss colt out of the Free House mare Spinning Yarns, has been training at Dickinson's reborn Tapeta Farm in Maryland since last November.

Dickinson is known for successfully bringing horses back from lengthy layoffs, including Da Hoss in

AN EVENTFUL NEWMARKET CLASSIC

By Tom Hall

Saturday marks the 208th running of the English Two Thousand Guineas (Eng-I) at the track on the Newmarket Heath, and this year's probable favorite is a Kentucky-bred son of War Front from the Ballydoyle Stable of Aidan O' Brien, Air Force Blue.

In 1980 the 172nd running featured a pair of U.S. breders whose paths first crossed at the 1978 Keeneland sales in Lexington, Ky. On a hot July Tuesday afternoon, Hip 218, a medium-sized bay Florida-bred son of In Reality—Tamerett, by Tim Tam, from the Mare Haven Farm consignment of Dr. William O. Reed, brought $225,000 from H.L. Cottrill. During the evening session, Hip 311, a Kentucky-bred bay colt consigned by Claiborne Farm, fetched considerably more. The smallish, blazed-faced son of Northern Dancer—Special, by Forli, went to B.B.A. Ireland for $1.3 million, then the second-highest-priced yearling on record.

The In Reality colt, named Known Fact, went to Prince Khalid Abdullah's Juddmonte Farms and trainer Jeremy Tree in England. The Northern Dancer colt landed with Stavros Niarchos and trainer Francois Boutin in France and was given the name Nureyev.

Two years later the pair lined up for the Two Thousand Guineas, the first of the English classics, where undefeated Nureyev was the favorite in the field of 13.

While the choices employed by Nureyev's jockey, Philippe Paquet, in a furious attempt to extricate himself from traffic and extend the colt's perfect record, resulted in him getting to the post a neck ahead of Known Fact, his tactics ultimately cost the colt the race. The severe interference suffered two furlongs from the finish by third-place finisher Posse (owned and bred by American Ogden Mills Phipps, who also bred and owned that year's group I One Thousand Guineas winner Quick as Lightning) led to stewards disqualifying Nureyev to last, moving Known Fact to first and Posse to second. Paquet was handed a seven-day suspension.

On the strength of his gutsy Guineas effort and his winning performance in the Queen Elizabeth II (Eng-II) run at Ascot in the fall, Known Fact was honored as champion miler in England. Although he never raced again after the Guineas debacle, Nureyev was named France's champion miler and was off to stud.

Both European champion milers ended up standing at stud in Kentucky, where each had a successful career. Known Fact sired 54 stakes winners from 612 starters (8.8%), and his progeny earned more than $34.2 million.

Nureyev became a breed-shaper. He sired 136 stakes winners from 654 starters (20.8%), and his progeny amassed more than $79.8 million in earnings. BH

COMPETITIVE STALLION MARKETPLACE

By Tara Madgwick

The major Australian farms have all released service fees in recent weeks, revealing a competitive marketplace.

Coolmore's champion sire Fastnet Rock lists as private, with four other stallions priced just below him at Aus$110,000 ($84,883).

Those sharing that fee are Darley's Exceed And Excel and Medaglia d'Oro, and Arrowfield's Redoute's Choice, along with his son, Snitzel.

The first three's fees remain the same, while Snitzel's has been increased from Aus$88,000 ($67,906).

Lonhro, who has made good headway with his North American progeny, is next at Aus$88,000, followed by Sebring at Aus$77,000 ($59,418), Not A Single Doubt at Aus$71,500 ($55,174) and More Than Ready at Aus$66,000 ($50,930).

Not A Single Doubt has had a benchmark year, with progeny earnings topping Aus$10 million ($7.57 million) for 2015-16, and 10 stakes winners, headed by group I winners Extreme Choice, Single Gaze, and Good Project. As a result, his fee has shot up from Aus$33,000 ($25,465).

The most expensive newcomers are on Coolmore's roster: 2015 Golden Slipper (Aus-I) winner Vancouver (Medaglia d'Oro), priced at Aus$66,000 ($50,930), and 2015 Blue Diamond (Aus-I) winner Pride Of Dubai (Street Cry), at Aus$55,000 ($42,441). BH

COMMISSIONERS NAMED TO REVAMPED KHRC

By Blood-Horse Staff

Former commissioner Frank Kling will return to chair a revamped Kentucky Horse Racing Commission, Kentucky Gov. Matt Bevin announced April 27.

The new commission will go from 16 members under former Gov. Steve Beshear to a dozen commissioners under Bevin.

In another change, a revised structure will grant voting powers to three ex-officio members: the secretary of the Public Protection Cabinet, secretary of the Tourism, Arts and Heritage Cabinet, and secretary of the Cabinet for Economic Development.

Bevin said the new commission structure will enhance the focus on one of Kentucky's signature industries.

New commissioners include retired Hall of Fame jockey Pat Day, Breeders' Cup director Bret Jones, and Ken Jackson, founding member of the North American Standardbred Breeders Association.

"These individuals encompass the character, competence, and commitment traits we need to elevate Kentucky's horse racing industry," Bevin said. "We are fortunate to have men and women of high caliber and integrity willing to serve in these roles."

The announced appointees are Frank Kling, John Roach, Lesley Howard, Dr. David Richardson, Mark Simendinger, Brereton C. Jones, Jr., Pat Day, Doug Hendrickson, Kerry Cauthen, Kenneth Jackson, Gerald Holt, and Dr. Stuart Brown. BH

HISTORY SHOWS CHURCHILL PRODUCES

The last one-day Breeders' Cup was held at Churchill Downs in 2006, and to call it a financial success would be an understatement.

The full-card on-track handle for the day totaled a record $18.25 million, up 23.8% from the previous year at Belmont Park, and 11.7% higher than the previous on-track wagering mark of $16.34 million recorded in 2003 at Santa Anita Park. All-sources handle of $140.33 million blew away previous years' figures and rose 13.1% from 2005, when the previous $123.97 million record had been established.

Attendance of 75,132 in 2006 was third-highest for a one-day Cup—but the two best figures—80,452 (1998) and 76,043 (2000)—also came at Churchill.

As for the two-day events that began in 2007, Churchill held them back to back in 2010 and 2011. The Kentucky track set the two-day attendance record of 114,353 in 2010, and two-day records for on-track handle ($22.5 million) and total handle ($173.85 million).

When the event returns to Churchill in three years, will records be set again?

The Cup returned to Kentucky in 2015, at first-time host Keeneland, after three consecutive years at Santa Anita in California. Even though Keeneland, because of its size, relied heavily on upscale temporary accommodations, on-track wagering over two days increased 2.5% from the previous year at expansive Santa Anita.

The tip-off that Breeders' Cup had an excellent chance of returning to Churchill in 2018 came the week of last year's event, when Churchill officials willingly confirmed they were preparing a formal bid.

"We very much want to be the host of future Breeders' Cups," John Asher, Churchill's vice president of communications, said in October. "We hope our history with the event works in our favor. We also have a facility that now, more than ever suits the Breeders' Cup."

Since 2011 Churchill has spent $67 million on capital improvements, related in part to premium seating and enhancing the customer experience, both of which are dear to the hearts of Breeders' Cup officials. Churchill president Kevin Flanery said more facility improvements could be made between now and November 2018, while Louisville mayor Greg Fischer noted the city has added 5,000 hotel rooms since 2011.

Fischer already has predicted the 2018 Cup will set records. That could be based on the fact each year

Churchill continues building—financially and otherwise—on Kentucky Derby (gr. I) week.

Churchill Downs Inc. last year reported Derby-week earnings were up $6 million from 2014, when the week generated about $8 million. The Kentucky Derby program alone produced $10.7 million in purse money paid to horsemen during the track's three 2015 meets, company officials said.

Financial details of contracts between Breeders' Cup and host tracks aren't released, though officials repeatedly have said the most financially successful Cups have been at Churchill. BH
