Arnaud Delacour is enjoying a successful year

DELACOUR BARN COMES INTO ITS OWN

By Doug McCoy

Arnaud Delacour was no clueless rookie when he arrived in the United States from France to work for a countryman, trainer Christophe Clement.

Delacour had worked in France under Alain de Royer-Dupre, one of the top horsemen in Europe whose stable was full of regally bred runners owned by the legendary Aga Khan, and had also spent a year in Argentina as an assistant trainer.

"I didn't come to America as a novice when it came to horses, but I did have a lot to learn about the differences between racing in this country and racing in Europe," Delacour said. "Learning to understand how those differences affected how to train horses here—now that was challenge. Fortunately I was still young with an open mind, and after being around Christophe and watching and learning from him and others like Graham (Motion) I started to get the feel of what it takes to succeed here.

"Because we race at a number of different courses in Europe and every one has a different layout, much of our preparation has to do with the type of ground the horse will have to race over, and whether it's a left-hand course or a right-hand course or a straight course. And our courses go uphill and downhill.

"And of course in our races the pace is usually slow early and fast coming home, whereas in this country most races, especially on dirt, go fast early then slow down as the race progresses. Adjusting my thought processes took a while, but in time we learned more and more of what we had to understand to success in the U.S."

It has been nine years since Arnaud and his wife and training partner Leigh launched a public stable, and it's readily apparent Delacour has acclimated to racing American-style quite nicely.

The stable first began generating headlines several years back with multiple graded stakes-winner turf sprinter Ageless, a Successful Appeal mare who won seven of 13 turf starts for Lael Stables and was beaten less than a length versus males in the 2014 Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint (gr. IT). After garnering attention predominantly with turf runners for several seasons, the Delacour outfit demonstrated it could train and develop good dirt horses as well with its handling of Divining Rod.

Divining Rod, a 4-year-old Tapit colt owned and bred by Lael Stables, showed his mettle in the late winter and spring of 2015 when he finished third in the Sam F. Davis Stakes (gr. III) and second to the then highly regarded Carpe Diem in the Tampa Bay Derby (gr. II). A very professional winning performance in the Lexington Stakes (gr. III) at Keeneland earned him a shot in the Preakness Stakes (gr. I), and Divining Rod ran a solid third behind eventual Triple Crown winner American Pharoah in the second leg of the Triple Crown.

This season the Delacours are in the headlines again. The stable has 53 wins from 186 starts and their runners have earned more than $1.9 million in purses.

Dark Nile, a PioneeroftheNile filly, overcame a racing surface that was turned into a quagmire at Delaware Park after a torrential downpour hit the area just prior to the Delaware Oaks (gr. III) and captured that race to run her career record to four wins from five starts.

A. P. Indian has won six of nine starts since moving to the Delacour barn and turned in a brilliant performance last time out when he captured the Alfred Vanderbilt Stakes (gr. I) at six furlongs at Saratoga Race Course for his fourth straight win. A. P. Indian, a 6-year-old Indian Charlie gelding bred and owned by Green Lantern Stables, now has to be considered among the top sprinters in the country.

COGLIANESE PHOTOS

Delacour's between-race schedule with A. P. Indian shows the adaptability of the European horseman's training philosophy. A.P. Indian won the Belmont Sprint Championship (gr. III) July 9, and the Vanderbilt was run July 30. In spite of the short turnaround, Delacour worked the horse five furlongs July 23.

"We wanted him to tell us if he was up to a race that quick back," he said. "A. P. Indian is an older gelding and older horses like that have tough constitutions. When he worked, he was sharp and happy and he came back good so we decided to run him. Now if that were a younger horse or a filly we wouldn't have considered that type of move. Whether it's turf or dirt, short or long, it all boils down what's best for the horse in question."

The seven-furlong, $700,000 Forego Stakes (gr. I) Aug. 27 at Saratoga is next for A. P. Indian, and he can earn a guaranteed starting spot in the TwinSpires Breeders' Cup Sprint (gr. I) if he wins.

The Delacour barn also has its share of well-bred 2- and 3-year-olds.

"It's certainly the largest group of young horses we've ever had in training," Delacour said, "And that's a credit to my owners, who have made a commitment to the future by breeding their own mares to top sires and being proactive at the sales to give us some well-bred babies from good families.

"You could say the schoolyard's full of precocious students, full of life and promise. This is one of the best times for a horseman, having a chance to work with horses that could develop into the stars of the sport." BH

MOHAYMEN CUTS BACK DISTANCE FOR KING BISHOP

By Tom LaMarra

Shadwell Stable's homebred Mohaymen, a four-time grade II winner, will cut back to one turn for the first time since last November in the $500,000 Ketel One King's Bishop Stakes (gr. I) for 3-year-olds Aug. 27 at Saratoga Race Course.

The seven-furlong King's Bishop is the eighth race on a 13-race Saturday card that features the $1.25 million Travers Stakes (gr. I), which had been the target for Mohaymen. His connections, including Shadwell owner Sheikh Hamdan, decided to race the Tapit colt in a sprint.

Trainer Kiaran McLaughlin said he prefers to send the colt seven furlongs at this stage, and he added that a victory in the King's Bishop is very good for a potential stallion's resume.

Mohaymen broke his maiden at six furlongs in his career debut and then won the one-turn-mile Nashua Stakes (gr. II) last November and enters the King's Bishop off of a troubled fourth-place finish in the July 30 Jim Dandy Stakes (gr. II), won by the maiden Laoban. Before that he was fourth in both the Kentucky Derby Presented by Yum! Brands and the Florida Derby (both gr. I).

Mohaymen, the 123-pound highweight under Junior Alvarado, prefers to rate a bit for the first half-mile and then make his move. There is no lack of early speed among the other 12 horses entered in the King's Bishop, which could play to Mohaymen's advantage.

Trainer Bob Baffert has two colts entered for their stakes debuts: Charles Chu's Drefong (Gio Ponti), who has won his last three starts in California by a combined 18 1/4 lengths, and Zayat Stables' Jazzy Times (Discreetly Mine), who is two-for-four. Both have set fast early fractions in their limited number of starts.

Jeff Drown's Summer Revolution, a Summer Bird colt who created a buzz with easy victories in a Belmont Park maiden special weight event and a Saratoga entry-level allowance race this summer, will attempt to remain undefeated in his third start for trainer Rudy Rodriguez. Both of his wins have come at seven furlongs.

Also in the King's Bishop are the first three finishers in the seven-furlong Woody Stephens Stakes (gr. II) in June at Belmont: GMB Racing's Tom's Ready (More Than Ready), Martin Racing Stable's Fish Trappe Road (Trappe Shot), and Calumet Farm's Star Hill (Elusive Quality).

Tom's Ready, trained by Dallas Stewart, went from last to first in a 12-horse field in the Woody Stephens and has been working steadily at Saratoga for his return. Bret Calhoun-trained Fish Trappe Road subsequently won the one-turn-mile Dwyer Stakes (gr. III) while Star Hill stretched out to 1 1/8 miles and finished third in the Indiana Derby (gr. II) in his last start. BH

FLINTSHIRE HEADLINES SWORD DANCER

By Eric Mitchell

Flintshire is looking to make it two-for-two in the $1 million Longines Sword Dancer Stakes (gr. IT) Aug. 27 at Saratoga Race Course.

Juddmonte Farm's homebred turf juggernaut will be making his 16th lifetime start in a graded/group stakes in the Sword Dancer, one of six grade I stakes on the Travers day card. Flintshire won this race by a commanding 2 1/2 lengths last year, his largest winning margin since he won his first group stakes—the group III Prix du Lys Longines—by three lengths June 16, 2013, at Chantilly.

The 6-year-old son of Dansili—Dance Routine, by Sadler's Wells, is trained by Chad Brown and will leave from post 6 carrying 124 pounds under Javier Castellano.

"With a horse like Flintshire, we're not trying to re-invent the wheel," Brown said. "By the time the horse had come over to us, he had made almost $8 million, so I'm not going to change anything with the horse. He's settled in nicely and, fortunately, he's taken to our program like the class horse he is. He came to us in outstanding condition from Andre Fabre. He had been managed by both Mr. Fabre and Juddmonte so well, that's why we have a horse at age 6 that's still at the top of his game."

Out of 21 starts, Flintshire has won seven times, finished second 10 times, and was third once. He comes into the Sword Dancer off consecutive wins in the Manhattan Stakes (gr. IT) at Belmont Park and the July 30 Bowling Green Stakes (gr. IIT) at Saratoga.

Grand Tito and Twilight Eclipse, who were second and third in the Bowling Green, respectively, will be taking another shot at Flintshire.

Grand Tito, also 6, is owned by Grupo Seven C Racing and trained by Gustavo Delgado. The grade II-winning son of Candy Ride has won twice this year, taking a $100,000 allowance race at Gulfstream Park before taking the MacDiarmida Stakes (gr. IIT) by 1 1/4 lengths. Grand Tito will be ridden by Jose Ortiz.

Twilight Eclipse, a grade I winner last year, is looking to improve his standing in stakes company this year. Owned by West Point Thoroughbreds, the 7-year-old son of Purim has placed in two stakes out of five starts this year, finishing third in the Belmont Gold Cup Invitational Stakes. Twilight Eclipse is trained by Tom Albertrani and will be ridden by John Velazquez.

"Apart from Flintshire, it's the same group that we've been running with," Albertrani said. "The horse has got it in him, so we decided to take our chances. It's a small field and for a million dollars. We just feel it's worth it." BH

SALES UPDATE

NUMBERS FREE FALL AT OBS AUGUST

By Ron Mitchell

There were no surprises at the first open session of the Ocala Breeders' Sales Company's August yearling sale, as the free-fall in prices and large percentage of buybacks seen the previous day during the select sale continued during the Aug. 24 session.

Considering that the open horses have lesser sire power and overall lighter pedigrees, and are at a price point below that of the select horses, the surprise would have been a dramatic turnaround in fortunes for breeders and pinhookers.

With 385 horses cataloged for the session that lasted nearly nine hours, OBS reported 207 head sold for $1,770,300, which was down 43.6% from the same session a year ago when only three more sold for gross receipts of $3,141,200. The average plummeted 42.8% to $8,552 compared to $14,958 a year ago, and the $4,700 session median represented a decline of 53% from $10,000 in 2015. With 75 yearlings unsold, the RNA rate was 35.2%.

Those results fit the pattern seen during Tuesday's select sale in which the average fell by 9.9% from a year earlier, the median was off 28.6%, and the one-day session buyback rate of 38.1% was well above the 22% figure in 2015.

OBS sales director Tod Wojciechowski said the numbers reflect the market and continue trends seen over the last two years.

"(The final numbers) are disappointing, but it underscores the state of the market right now," Wojciechowski said. "Buyers are pretty discerning and any horse they perceive as being below the upper echelon is hard to move."

Select session leading buyer de Meric Stables was again active Wednesday, going to $80,000 to acquire a striking chestnut Kantharos colt from the Summerfield consignment of Francis and Barbara Vanlangendonck. The colt, Hip 412, was bred in Florida by Philip M. Matthews and Karen Matthews.

The session second-highest price of $65,000 was paid by Southern Chase Farm for a Majesticperfection colt whose second dam Primaly was a champion in Canada who finished third in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies (gr. I).

Offered as Hip 344 by Potrero Stables, the colt

JOE DIORIO

A Kantharos colt sold for $80,000 to top the first open session of OBS August bred in Kentucky by Brian Kahn and Bedouin Bloodstock was purchased by the consignor for $20,000 at last year's Keeneland November sale.

Earlier in the session, de Meric went to $55,000 to pick up a gray Mission Impazible colt from the Sequel New York offerings. Hip 329, the New York-bred colt is a half brother to grade III winner Vinceremos and is from the female family of champion sprinter Safely Kept.

The colt was bred in New York by Sequel Thoroughbreds and Twin Creeks Farm; the latter campaigned Mission Impazible, whose first foals are 2-year-olds this year.

Also selling for $55,000 to Grupo 7C Racing Stable was another Kantharos colt, this one Hip 602 from the consignment of Big C Farm, which bred the colt in Florida.

The sale in Ocala, Fla., concludes Aug. 25 with the second open session that begins at 10:30 a.m. EDT. BH

Breeze-Link

Breeze-Link covers all expenses for taking your yearling prospect from the breaking stage to a 2-year-olds in training sale. In return for providing all training and veterinary costs, as well as shipping and entry fees, Breeze-Link will earn equity in that yearling.

Typically, this time-honored practice can cost the breeder/owner a large equity stake in the horse. Breeze-Link is offering the same service at a fraction of the price. If your 2-year-old is injured and is unable to be sold Breeze-Link loses its investment.

Why Breeze-Link?

Advantages to yearling breeder/owner:

- No breaking, training or board costs for RNA yearlings until sold as a 2-year-old
- Eliminate further downside on an unsold horse
- A benefit for late-developing yearlings better suited to breeze-up auctions without additional expenditure
- Cash flow relief of approximately $20,000 per head

Advantages to Pinhookers:

- No out-of-pocket costs to train your horse
- Eliminate future carrying costs of $20,000 per head, which in turn increases the amount of investment capital for yearlings
- Additional support and promotion at sales

MINESHAFT YEARLING HEADS HORSES TO WATCH

By Ron Mitchell

The only Mineshaft yearling in the Ocala Breeders' Sales Co.'s August yearling sale is among the horses to watch during the Aug. 25 final session of the two-day open sale in Ocala, Fla.

Consigned as Hip 695 by JR Racing Stables, the colt was bred in Kentucky by Twin Creeks Farm and is out of the Tiznow mare Tizfiz, winner of the grade II San Gorgonio Handicap and earner of $410,944. Tizfiz, a full sister to grade III winner and $521,040 earner Fury Kapcori, was bought by Twin Creeks for $125,000 out of the 2014 Keeneland November breeding stock sale while carrying the Mineshaft colt in utero.

Two freshman sires whose yearlings bear watching include Biondetti, the sire of a filly named Twice as Magical consigned as Hip 716 by Woodford Thoroughbreds as agent, and Dialed In, who is represented by Hip 838, a colt being offered by agent Beth Bayer.

The Biondetti filly, bred in Florida by Linda S. Rosenblatt and Emmy Gaffney, is out of the stakes-placed Texas Glitter mare Twiceasbeautiful, a half sister to grade II winner Twice As Bad. Bred in Florida by Bridle Oaks Farm, the Dialed In colt was produced from the winning Notebook mare Book the Devil, granddam of stakes winner Valery Stripe.

Among the stallions with their first-crop yearlings are Prospective and Liaison. Prospective is the sire of Hip 752 (consigned by Spring Dreams Thoroughbreds), a colt out of stakes-placed Wingover, who is a half sister to champion Farda Amiga. Liaison is the sire of Hip 888, an Oklahoma-bred colt consigned by Stuart Morris, agent, who is out of stakes-producer Concert Strike. BH

'TRAINER PROFILING' DISCUSSED BY CHRB

By Jeremy Balan

California Horse Racing Board member Madeline Auerbach, at an Aug. 24 meeting of the agency's Medication and Track Safety Committee, called for increased scrutiny of certain trainers through "profiling."

The Wednesday meeting at Del Mar touched on several topics, from cell phone use by exercise riders to drug policies in New Mexico, but during a discussion about medical violations for the 2015-16 fiscal year, Auerbach made her point.

"I'm going to be very politically incorrect. I see nothing wrong with profiling at all," Auerbach said. "If certain barns are doing things in a matter that is not leveling the playing field, I have no problem looking into it more carefully."

CHRB equine medical director Dr. Rick Arthur said the regulatory agency is already employing some of those tactics.

"If there is credible information, we do that," Arthur said. "Frankly, if you're a more than 30% trainer, you should expect to see us in your barn."

Asked to clarify her statement after the meeting, Auerbach said indicators for increased scrutiny for drug testing and investigation could be statistical in nature.

"There are certain situations where you would be curious as to—is there anything we're not aware of going on? I would not paint with a broad brush," she said. "We'd be looking for an anomaly—a constant anomaly where they are more successful than would statistically make sense. Let's profile that. Let's look at that. That doesn't mean they are doing anything wrong, but let's find out."

"I don't think it's a problem, but I don't want it to become one, either. We're supposed to police the game. We're supposed to make sure it's fair and even-handed—not only for the owners and trainers, but for the gamblers out there. We're trying to keep the game clean, and I think we're doing a damn good job of it."

California Thoroughbred Trainers executive director Alan Balch somewhat agreed with Auerbach's sentiments, but also voiced concern after the committee meeting.

"The word 'profiling' has a lot of baggage because the people who oppose 'profiling' immediately think of racial profiling—profiling people to be inspected of things. It has a connotation of discrimination," Balch said. "There's a place for profiling. I have to agree. But to the extent it is employed, it has to be very carefully done and with great evidence, rather than indiscriminately."

Balch also commented on potential conflicts of interest regarding profiling.

"The one problem with profiling is that certain people are—we all have friends and we all have people who are not friends. The rule should never be used to 'get' someone, and that is a potential perception that can come from profiling," he said.

As for the hard numbers, for the 2015-16 fiscal year the CHRB reported 20 Class 1, 2, or 3 positives and 56 Class 4 or 5 medication violations from 11,012 total post-race tests (9,896 blood and urine tests, and 1,116 blood-only tests). There were zero positives from 960 out-of-competition samples and 20,676 pre-race samples on Thoroughbreds and Standardbreds.

"Generally, the results of out-of-competition testing shows that the game is clean," CHRB executive director Rick Baedeker said. BH

Ogden Phipps winner Cavorting is the morning-line favorite for the Personal Ensign

PERSONAL ENSIGN LOADED WITH QUALITY

By Ron Mitchell

What the $750,000 Personal Ensign Stakes (gr. I) at Saratoga Race Course Aug. 27 lacks in quantity it makes up for in quality.

The 1 1/8-mile race with five 4-year-old fillies features four grade I winners—Curalina, I'm a Chatterbox, Cavorting, and Forever Unbridled. The fifth entrant, Paid Up Subscriber, is a grade II winner.

Installed as the co-highweight at 123 pounds, Stonestreet Stables' Cavorting drew off to score June 11 in her last start, the $1 million Ogden Phipps Stakes (gr. I) at Belmont Park.

The Bernardini filly trained by Kieran McLaughlin reeled off two consecutive graded wins at Saratoga last year, with the Longines Test Stakes, her first grade I, followed by the Prioress Stakes (gr. II).

Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners' Curalina comes off a 9 1/4-length romp at Saratoga over three opponents in the July 31 Shuvee Handicap (gr. III) in the slop.

Fletcher and Carolyn Gray's homebred I'm a Chatterbox, also at 123 pounds, secured her second grade I win when she overcame an horrendous start and went on to defeat older horses in the July 16 Delaware Handicap (gr. I).

Forever Unbridled, a daughter of Unbridled's Song, has won or placed in all 11 of her starts and earned more than $1 million. The Dallas Stewart-trained filly won Oaklawn Park's Apple Blossom (gr. I) in April and finished second to Cavorting in the Ogden Phipps. BH

SHORT PAT O'BRIEN JUST FINE FOR MASOCHISTIC

By Blood-Horse Staff

Grade I winner Masochistic is training forwardly for the $200,000 Pat O'Brien Stakes (gr. II) Aug. 27 at Del Mar. A win could result in a second Breeders' Cup Sprint (gr. I) bid for the 6-year-old son of Sought After, who led gate-to-wire last out and finished 6 1/4 lengths in front.

"Visually, it was very impressive; he looks like a different horse this year," trainer Ron Ellis said. "He always used to be a bit of a run-off and it was nice to see how he settled."

The result was vastly different from Masochistic's previous start; he sustained a hairline fracture and finished last of 14 in the 2015 TwinSpires Breeders' Cup Sprint (gr. I). Time off led to the strong comeback in July.

The winner of last year's Triple Bend Handicap (gr. I) drew post 5 in a field of as many for this seven furlong sprint. Outside Nashville, Cautious Giant, Vyjack, and Indexical complete the field.

"I know it doesn't make for a very attractive betting race, but I don't know if I'd be very excited about running against him right now," Ellis said.

"If he runs like I think he will, he won't run again until the Breeders' Cup. He won his grade I last year off a two-month layoff. ... He's not a very big horse and he likes his races spaced." BH

MAN O' WAR'S TRAVERS STAKES

By Tom Hall

From the time the gates opened at Saratoga Race Course the morning of Aug. 21, 1920, folks poured in.

They packed the stands, not a seat nor standing room to be had; they filled the apron and lined the rail, a quarter-mile of teeming humanity, moving and shifting to stake out whatever meager territory they could find. The races started and still they came.

Track officials, desperate to release the largest crowd ever gathered in Saratoga's spacious grounds, opened the infield. Immediately 5,000 fans gushed across the track, eager to gain a better vantage point to see the race.

The race was the 51st Travers Stakes, headlined by Sam Riddle's wonder horse, Man o' War.

Only two dared face the imposing chestnut son of Fair Play: H.P. Whitney's entry of John P. Grier, whom Man o' War had been hard-pressed to defeat in the Dwyer Stakes at Aqueduct Racetrack; and Upset, who handed Man o' War his only defeat when he took the measure of Riddle's pride and joy in Saratoga's Sanford Memorial Stakes when they were juveniles.

While rumors abounded that Man o' War was less than his best, the race forthwith dispelled any doubt. Taking the lead at the outset, the gigantic red colt set a torrid pace, with John P. Grier attempting to draft in his slipstream. As the short field arced into the home-stretch, Man o' War displayed a turn of foot his rival could not match, striding under restraint to win by 2 1/2 lengths and equaling Sir Barton's track record. Upset finished second, and John P. Grier came third, some seven lengths back.

Fourteen days later Man o' War won the Lawrence Realization by 100 lengths, then added a 15-length score in the Jockey Club Gold Cup and a victory in the Potomac Handicap before tackling 1919 Triple Crown winner Sir Barton in the Kenilworth Park Gold Cup, a $75,000 match race in Canada that Big Red won by seven.

The October issue of the Thoroughbred Horse, forerunner of BloodHorse, reported the results of that match race accompanied by a photo of Man o' War drinking from the race's trophy, a $5,000 solid gold cup designed and crafted by Tiffany & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Riddle donated the trophy to Saratoga and, now known as the Man o' War Cup, it is the official Travers trophy. Each year a gold-plated replica is given to the winning owner.

The first known instance of it being awarded to the winner was the 1936 Travers won by William Woodward's Granville in a very close finish with Calumet Farm's Sun Teddy. Presenting the trophy to Woodward, Mrs. Riddle is recorded by the New York Times as saying, "I am very glad to present this cup to you and hope you enjoy winning it as much as Mr. Riddle and I did with Man o' War in 1920." BH

DELAWARE MAIDEN HAS THREE TO WATCH

By Mary Reeder

Race 6 at Delaware Park—a $34,000 maiden special weight for juvenile fillies—attracted three homebreds with notable pedigrees making their first starts at 7 1/2 furlongs on the turf.

DATTT Stable will race Diana's Thrill (Artie Schiller—Golden Artemis), a full sister to grade I-winning My Conquestadory. Golden Artemis, by Malibu Moon, has produced one other winner from two foals to race.

Shipping in from Belmont Park, Diana's Thrill will go to post as the second choice on the morning line at 4-1 for trainer Christophe Clement.

Brereton Jones' Cause She's Fast, a half sister to 2012 Kentucky Oaks (gr. I) winner Believe You Can (Proud Citizen), is also set to debut.

By Creative Cause, Cause She's Fast is out of the unraced El Prado mare El Fasto, who has seven winners from eight foals to race. Larry Jones trains.

My Conquestadory won the TVG Summer Stakes over males at Woodbine

Another of interest is the Smart Strike filly Miss Lovely, who posted bullets in her last two works at Fair Hill Training Center in Maryland. In her latest move Aug. 14, she was the fastest of 12 covering four furlongs in :48 1/5 for trainer Michael Matz.

Steven Di Iorio's runner is out of Annasan, a winning Corporate Report mare, who also foaled Canadian multiple graded stakes winner Bit O' Gold, stakes winner Arco's Gold, and stakes-placed Adjalah.

All three Kentucky-bred fillies will be taking on a more experienced morning-line favorite, Lucky in Malibu. ZWP Stable and Non Stop Stable's Maryland-bred has two starts behind her with a second-place finish in her last start Aug. 4 at Delaware. BH

GOFFS REPORTS STRONG SALES

By Blood-Horse Staff

The two-day Goffs UK Premier yearling sale produced increases in average and median, and though gross receipts dropped 2% from last year, 23 fewer horses were sold in 2016.

A Dark Angel colt offered by Highclere Stud topped the auction when he sold for £280,000 ($370,561) to Peter and Ross Doyle Aug. 24, the second day of the auction. The colt, out of a stakes-winning Oasis Dream half sister to Swiss Spirit, was purchased on behalf of Shadwell and will be sent to trainer Richard Hannon.

Six horses brought at least £200,000, and 32 yearlings topped the six-figure mark to fuel a gross of £17,455,000 ($23,100,541). The average of £44,078 ($58,334) was up 3%, while the median increased 13% to £34,000 ($44,996). Of the 454 yearlings on offer, 396 sold for a clearance rate of 87%.

The Hong Kong Jockey Club, represented by Mark Richards, paid £230,000 ($304,389) for Brightwalton Stud's Acclamation colt; it was the club's second six-figure purchase at the sale.

SARAH FARNSWORTH

"For the fifth consecutive year the Premier sale has returned improved figures following two powerful days of sustained trade at a level we have not witnessed at Doncaster at any sale in memory," Goffs chief executive Henry Beeby said. "Add to the mix a real hunger from our buyers from home and abroad, and the result is the kind of consistently strong trade that we have witnessed over the last two days headlined by a record-equaling yearling at £280,000 for the second consecutive year." BH

ONTARIO-SIRED BONUS PROGRAM TO CONTINUE

By Tom LaMarra

Though Ontario-sired bonus payments were reduced for 2016, Woodbine and the Ontario Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association said the program will continue for 2017-18.

The announcement was made a little more than a week before the Sept. 1 Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society's Ontario Division Canadian Premier yearling sale "to assure buyers of Ontario-sired yearlings there is no intention to eliminate the Ontario-sired bonus program during the horse's 2- and 3-year-old campaigns in 2017 and 2018."

Earlier this year, Woodbine reduced the bonuses for 2016 because payments in previous years had exceeded projections. The 40% bonus for all open races was reduced to 30% for allowance and maiden special weight races and 20% for all other eligible races.

Officials said Ontario-sired bonuses totaled $3.6 million in 2014 and $4.4 million in 2015. The amount was reduced to $2 million this year to realign the bonus to the budgeted amount.

MICHAEL BURNS

Purses and conditions for the 2017 race meet at Woodbine will be hammered out by the track and Ontario HBPA later this year. Overnight purses through Aug. 21 during the current meet have averaged $405,234 in U.S. funds.

The sale, to be held at Woodbine, is offering $100,000 in cash and prizes to those who purchase horses. The sale company also announced that Woodbine in 2017 will offer four additional races with a minimum purse of $45,000 for 2016 sales graduates. BH

WINNING HAND OR STACKED DECK?

Internet poker could be big business for California horse racing—even though racetracks won't be permitted to participate by creating their own betting websites.

It's a similar set up to a system that was in place in New Jersey for about a decade. In exchange for not pursuing legislation to authorize racetrack slot machines, the racing industry—then directly operated by the state—received millions of dollars a year to supplement purses.

The arrangement ended in 2010. Six years later, New Jersey racing and breeding is struggling to remain relevant in the congested Mid-Atlantic region where tracks in neighboring states offer casino gambling and have far more resources for purses.

But even when the casino funding was in place, there were political efforts to reduce the supplements and industry infighting over the amount paid to certain tracks each year.

The Internet poker bill in California would, if gross revenue projections proved accurate, generate up to $57 million a year for racing. According to a California Horse Racing Board staff analysis, the funds would be divvied up as such: 95.4% for racing associations for commissions, purses for horsemen, and incentive awards; 2.3% for a pari-mutuel employees' pension fund; 1.15% for a jockeys' retirement plan; and 1.15% for health and welfare benefits for jockeys.

It's far from a done deal, however. Several powerful tribal entities that operate casinos in California object to the bill's "bad actor" provisions designed to keep prominent Internet poker platforms that had operated illegally in the state in the past from being licensed. Even the Poker Players Alliance, which supports legalization of Internet poker, objects to the bill's amendments.

The organization said PokerStars.com and Amaya.com, which have relationships with tribes and card rooms in California, shouldn't be singled out.

"PPA does not believe anyone should be entitled to a license to operate Internet poker in California," the advocacy group said in statement issued

Aug. 18. "We feel a license to operate is a privilege that must be earned through a vigorous vetting process and that questions of suitability should be left to independent California gaming regulators. Legislating a 'bad actor' provision would strip regulators of that independent role."

During a committee hearing in June, the Jockeys' Guild, California Thoroughbred Trainers, Churchill Downs Inc., Thoroughbred Owners of California, California Thoroughbred Breeders Association, Del Mar, and the Oak Tree Racing Association spoke in favor of the bill for obvious reasons. That $57 million each year could go a long way—at least for several years—but it's clearly not a panacea.

New Jersey is a prime example, as are multiple states in which horse racing gets a cut of casino revenue for purses and breed development programs. Has the system truly done its job? Or has it merely served as a means to buy time in the absence of a comprehensive examination of ways to grow racing's dedicated funding source: pari-mutuel wagering? BH
